

City Request for Disposal Permit Granted by State

The city's request for renewal of a permit to dump partially treated waste into the Scioto River has been approved by the Ohio Board of Water Pollution Control.

Notification received Saturday by the Circleville Water Department disclosed the renewal is for six months. The expiration date is Oct. 15 of this year.

According to the Pollution

Control Board, the permit renewal is contingent on three factors or conditions the city must meet. They are:

1. Institute and complete a plant scale study to determine the effect and cost of chemical treatment of municipal waste utilizing existing facilities.
2. Submit an engineering report summarizing findings of the treatment study and incorporate recommendations for providing entirely satisfactory treatment and disposal of waste.
3. Provide satisfactory operation and maintenance of the existing sewerage and sewage treatment works, including submission of regular operating reports and annual summaries as required by the Division of Engineering, Ohio Department of Health.

ERIN LEIST, director of public utilities, said the last condition is a routine one that has always been required and complied with by the local department.

The latest request, submitted by the Circleville Department on May 8, is the 18th renewal application for the original permit that was issued by the state in 1953.

The Pollution Control Board has contended that the city's treatment facilities are less than adequate. The periodic renewals are based on steps planned or actually taken to improve the disposal operation.

The city has been considering a new disposal plant, although actual approval has not been given. The latest alternative is the chemical treatment process which officials hope will improve the city's treatment process and better meet state standards.

Theft Foiled By Officer

Three Mansfield juveniles, accused of attempting to steal gasoline here, were apprehended last night after being spotted by an off-duty policeman.

The youngsters, 14, 15, 16, aroused the suspicion of Patrolman William Brungs when they drove their car into an alley and parked near his home at 116 Town St.

Brungs notified police headquarters of the activity. Patrolmen Wesley Barton, Larry Pontious and Sheriff's Deputy Robert Featheringharn nabbed one of the juveniles who was carrying a five-gallon gasoline can.

A second youngster was found beside a house. The third was discovered asleep in the car.

Officers said the juveniles apparently intended to take gasoline from a car owned by Roy Spradlin. The trio is being held for Mansfield authorities.

Florida Poll

The formation in California of a committee to draft Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton was announced over the weekend. It was indirectly pro-Rockefeller.

Rockefeller's campaign tour hit a detour when his scheduled appearance tonight before an Elks Lodge in Long Beach was canceled. Ross McKelvie, exalted ruler of the Long Beach Elks Lodge 888, said the cancellation order came from top-ranking national officials of the organization.

Fay Lewis of Whittier, Calif., a former grand exalted ruler, said the Elks' constitution did not allow political or religious speakers.

The Florida GOP primary is to decide whether a slate of delegates pledged to Goldwater and endorsed by him, or an unpledged slate, most of whose members favor Goldwater, will cast the state's 34 convention votes.

Either way the senator is assured a good bloc of votes. He also is expected to pick up Mississippi's 13 votes at that state's GOP convention.

At the start of the week, The Associated Press survey of first ballot votes showed this lineup:

Barry Goldwater	304
William W. Scranton	70
Henry Cabot Lodge	44
Nelson A. Rockefeller	40
Margaret Chase Smith	15
Richard M. Nixon	11

Lausche Says U.S. Is Losing to Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D - Ohio, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, says the United States is losing ground to the Communists "in every corner of the world."

Writing for the Reader's Digest, Lausche called Secretary of State Dean Rusk a sincere, devoted diplomat but said the State Department has within its ranks "long-entrenched and frequently misguided men whose views too often account for our unsuccessful policies."

Peru Soccer

Police cornered the fan and dragged him off. Other spectators poured onto the field.

The referee called off the game. Police escorted him off the field. The players headed for the dressing rooms.

Termination of the game only excited the fans more.

"They threw seat cushions and bottles and anything else they could lay their hands on," said a witness.

Nothing could stop the mobs dashing in frenzy for the exit gates, still closed because of the sudden end of the game.

Body upon body was crushed and stomped in the dash to escape. Men, women and children died, in the stands and at the exits.

Traffic around the stadium in the center of the city was jammed for hours. Mounted police charged the crowds outside in an effort to keep order.

Hoodlums looted the pockets of some of the victims. They also snatched watches and other valuables.

Under the stadium lights, survivors and police went to the aid of the injured and tried to sort out the piles of dead. The injured were sent to hospitals in ambulances, taxis, and commandeered cars and trucks.

Many persons blamed the police use of tear gas for starting the panic.

Outside the hospitals, mobs assembled, shouting denunciations of the police. "Revenge," they screamed. "Down with the police."

The government suspended individual liberties — a modified form of martial law — in an attempt to prevent further rioting. It also proclaimed a week of national mourning.

On the crushed chests of some of the bodies were the deep purple imprints of the curtain-like metal exit gates.

Doctors at the hospitals said most of the victims suffocated.

Navy Is Studying Polaris Successor

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The director of the Polaris program said today the submarine missile may be an effective weapon until the 1980s and the Navy is studying advanced underwater missile concepts as possible successors.

Rear Adm. J. J. Galantin said systems being considered are deep diving submarines made of titanium or glass which could hug the ocean bottom; missiles powered by nuclear energy or exotic fuels, and deployment of large missiles in submerged tubes anchored in the sea.

He outlined the proposals in a paper prepared for the annual meeting of the Aviation and Space Writers' Association.

Data Shows Increase In County Buying Income

Estimated effective buying income per household in Pickaway County increased to $6,345 in 1962 from $5,595 in 1960. Buying income in 1955 was $4,844. The number of households in the county jumped to 9,700 in 1962 from 7,900 in 1955.

This statistical information is shown in the new revised edition of the Cleveland and Ohio Economic Data Book to be published soon by Central National Bank of Cleveland.

The 1964 edition of the Economic Data Book for the first time has been expanded to include extensive information on all 88 counties in Ohio.

The latest figures on per household buying income give Pickaway County a ranking of No. 31 among the 88 counties in Ohio included in the study.

PER capita buying income in Pickaway County climbed to $1,637 in 1962 from $1,445 in 1960 and $1,228 in 1955, according to the report.

The Economic Data Book published by the big Cleveland bank is primarily for the use of those businesses which are the bank's customers. The book is also made available to libraries, community groups, chambers of commerce and other interested organizations. It is part of Central National Bank's unique and continuing program for stimulating economic growth in the State of Ohio.

Bank deposits in the agricultural and manufacturing county expanded to $28,709,000 as of June 29, 1963, from $23,435,000 on June 15, 1960.

The 1,360 farms in Pickaway County in 1959 comprised 95 per cent of all land area, ranking it sixth in Ohio in this respect. In 1962, Pickaway ranked sixth among Ohio counties in cash receipts from the sale of hogs.

The bank's survey shows that 54 per cent of workers covered by unemployment compensation in Pickaway County are employed in manufacturing, with 23 per cent engaged in wholesale and retail trade.

Ohio Legislature Is Awaiting Call

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Warm weather has turned talk of a special legislative session towards next fall.

When the temperature passed 90 degrees here this week, one legislative leader observed that "you couldn't get anything through an extraordinary session in this heat."

His remark made it clear that recent reports of an early session were premature.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, May 25, the 146th day of 1964. There are 220 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1787, the first session of the Constitutional Convention was held in Philadelphia, ostensibly to amend the old Articles of Confederation. As it turned out, however, the convention framed the Constitution we have today.

On this date

In 1803, poet, essayist and philosopher Ralph Waldo Emerson was born in Boston.

In 1862, Confederate Gen. Thomas J. (Stonewall) Jackson defeated Union forces at Winchester, Va.

In 1942, Gen. Joseph W. (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell arrived in New Delhi, India, after his epic retreat from Burma.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill held a joint news conference in Washington.

In 1944, the Anzio beachhead was linked to the main Allied front in Italy.

Ten years ago—A bomb, presumably intended for Gen. Augustin Guillaume, retiring resident general in French Morocco, exploded in Marrakesh just after his car had passed.

Five years ago—A United Nations world economic survey indicated the economies of Communist nations were growing at a more rapid rate than those of the free world.

One year ago—30 independent African states formed the Organization of African Unity at a conference in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

John Carroll Alumni Plaque Disappears

CLEVELAND (AP)—An inscribed plaque John Carroll University was to have given to Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Anthony J. Celebrezze as its "Alumni Man of the Year" never arrived. It got lost in the mail.

"I'm glad he's not postmaster general," The very Rev. Hugh E. Dunn, S. J., university president, quipped Sunday in explaining what happened to the plaque. "This would really be embarrassing."

County Unit Hears Address By Historian

Gilbert F. Dodds, noted Columbus historian, was the guest speaker for a meeting of the Pickaway County Historical Society held in the Episcopal Parish House.

Mrs. Ray Davis, president, introduced Dodds, who formerly wrote a syndicated column for Ohio newspapers. The column was titled "Anecdotes of Ohio."

Dodds is currently research director for the Franklin County Historical Society and has written 12 booklets in connection with his position. He conducts seven tours each year for the society. He is a noted lecturer before civic, educational and religious groups.

"Reminiscences of Pickaway County" was the title of Dodds' talk Thursday evening. He spoke of the War of 1812 and the great number of soldiers from the Scioto Valley that were in Harrison's second army.

The old village of Westfall was of particular historical interest. Dodds said that he doesn't know where Logan made his famous speech, but he does know that he lived at Westfall. He has in his possession, a map which clearly locates Logan's cabin. He also contends that Tecumseh was born at Westfall.

The Shawnees had seven towns in Pickaway County and lived here from 1758-1778, Dodds said. Tecumseh was born in 1768.

Dodds advocates "seeing Ohio first" instead of making long trips to out-of-state places of interest. Pickaway County abounds in interesting historical spots, he said. For example, he suggested a visit to the Bethlehem EUB Church in Walnut Twp., which was the site of the beginning of Otterbein College; the biggest sycamore tree in the United States is on the George Foreman farm near South Bloomfield; the site of old Westfall and the old canal are an interesting afternoon trip; Cross Mound and Serpent Mound merit a visit in addition to all seven Shawnee villages, he said.

Dodds reminded society members that it has been 100 years since the Civil War, 150 years since the War of 1812 and 200 years since Pontiac's uprising. All of these events are meaningful to Pickaway Countians, he said, and the part the county played in them should be investigated and memorialized in some fitting way.

Second Bank Holdup Tied To Suspect

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Curtis Alvin Angell, charged with taking part in the $52,000 robbery of a Farmersville branch bank, also is considered a prime suspect in an Indiana bank robbery, the FBI says.

The 31-year-old Indianapolis man was charged Sunday with bank robbery and assaulting a federal officer in connection with Friday's robbery of the Farmersville branch of the First National Bank of Miami.

The FBI said that Angell has already been questioned in the unsolved $30,000 robbery of the Clayton, Ind., branch of the Danville State Bank Jan. 9. FBI agents say they plan to interrogate the ex-convict in Dayton again this week.

Angell was arrested by FBI agents in a downtown Dayton hotel room Saturday night. Recovered in the capture was $28,000, believed to be part of the $52,000 taken by two gunmen from the Farmersville branch. The other holdup man was still sought.

The Ultimate End

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — A coffeehouse has been opened at the point where U. S. Highway No. 1 deadends at the Gulf of Mexico. The highway stretches from Fort Kent, Maine, to Key West where it can go no further. The coffeehouse is called "The Ultimate End."

Those matters included school foundation and teacher pay changes, fair housing, salary boosts for state employees, liberalization of aid for dependent children, revision of residential "through-street" laws, Cleveland real estate tax revision following an Ohio Supreme Court order for class uniformity, tighter strip mine controls and an industrial financing program to replace an administration plan knocked out by the Supreme Court.

Soviet-Red China Split To Worsen, Expert Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The split between the Chinese and Soviet Communists is "the most important development of the cold war in the last decade," says William L. Ryan, veteran news analyst for the Associated Press.

Ryan told a group of Ohio newspaper editors Sunday that he cannot see a patch in the Sino-Soviet dispute in the near future. "I think the split will get much deeper," he said.

Ryan, an expert on Communist affairs, made his comments on Southeast Asia at the semi-annual meeting of the Associated Press Society of Ohio, an organization of newspaper members of the wire service cooperative in Ohio.

Ryan said the split between the two giant Communist powers cannot, however, bring much comfort to the West "because it may lead to an act of desperation."

The 31-year-old Indianapolis man was charged Sunday with bank robbery and assaulting a federal officer in connection with Friday's robbery of the Farmersville branch of the First National Bank of Miami.

The FBI said that Angell has already been questioned in the unsolved $30,000 robbery of the Clayton, Ind., branch of the Danville State Bank Jan. 9. FBI agents say they plan to interrogate the ex-convict in Dayton again this week.

Angell was arrested by FBI agents in a downtown Dayton hotel room Saturday night. Recovered in the capture was $28,000, believed to be part of the $52,000 taken by two gunmen from the Farmersville branch. The other holdup man was still sought.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here is the official U. S. Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

A cold front pushed its way over the state Sunday, setting off thunderstorms.

Gusty winds attended some of the thunderstorms over the central and northern counties. The heaviest rainfall measured 1.3 inches at Upper Sandusky. Cleveland had 1.1, and Columbus .4 of an inch, while lesser amounts were measured over the southwest counties.

Gentle northerly winds moved over the state during the night, dropping temperatures into the 50s, while Toledo recorded the coolest with a reading of 47.

The morning weather map showed the nearest showers to be located over the northern great plain states.

Prospects were favorable for dry weather today and Tuesday with the possibility of showers arriving sometime Wednesday. High temperatures today were to be in the 70s and move back into the 80s Tuesday.

Dr. William Randolph Lovelace II, the new space medicine director for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said there already has been some exchange of medical information with Russian space scientists and that another conference is planned in June 1965.

Ben Maldenberg, executive editor of the Akron Beacon Journal, was named president of the society to succeed Charles Reamer of the Athens Pressenger.

Other officers elected were: Harry Yockey, editor of the Dover Daily Reporter, vice president; Gene Jordan, city editor of the Columbus Dispatch, treasurer (re-elected); and Alva N. Dopking, chief of the Ohio AP Bureau, secretary. Ralph Holsinger, managing editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, was elected a trustee.

said Ralph Daigh of Fawcett. The award will go to the author of an original, English-language novel of at least 60,000 words, regardless of whether he has had previous works published. There is no restriction on subject matter or locale.

Walter J. Minton of Putnam's expressed hope, however, that the program would "produce a major novel that will speak positively of American values in terms that will appeal to the widest possible audience, and not to a particular coterie of readers."

Manuscripts must be submitted between next July 1 and

Good Therapy

Grumbling is nothing new for the British soldier. He has been doing it since he carried a halberd or a bow and arrows. In Cyprus now, serving in the UN force with Canadian, Irish and Swedish troops, he is grumbling about his pay.

The British private receives $26 a week, plus 35 cents a day overseas allowance. There is quite a gulf between this and his Canadian comrade-in-arms who receives, with special allowances, $75 a week. The Irish are receiving $43 and the Swedes $78. The old notion of the grossly underpaid British soldier is a thing of the past. The sharp differences noticeable in the UN force are due mainly to the special allowances other countries pay for service in danger zones.

The basic pay of the British officer has been increased 300 per cent in the last 20 years. The recruit's pay has gone up by almost 400 per cent in the same period. In addition, there is a maze of allowances for skill. Without this the British army would fade away for want of recruits. Conscription ceased in 1960.

But when it comes to paying special allowances for serving in jungles, deserts and danger zones, the British government is adamant in its refusal. A third of the British army is serving in such spots and a generous allowance for all would boost the budget to huge proportions.

So the British soldier, with his pay and a petting allowance of 35 cents a day, competes in cafes, for taxis, etc., with Canadian and other soldiers more liberally supplied with cash. Before the UN moved in prices were probably steady. When the Swedes and Canadians arrived with more cash in their pockets, the Cypriot cafe proprietors doubtless "saw them coming" and adjusted prices accordingly.

The British soldier feels the economic squeeze. It is an old tale. In the last war, American GIs tipped taxi-drivers two dollars — or was it five? — and also ruined the price structure of every city in which they served.

In Cyprus the British soldier will grumble in vain. His government treats overseas service with the ancient indifference born of the centuries. There will be no special allowance, but then, grumbling is good therapy.

Aiding the Cause

Queen Elizabeth and Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, two of the world's fashion leaders, have been asked to aid the cause of wildlife conservation by putting their leopard skin coats in storage.

Ever since the first caveman dragged home a saber-toothed tiger for his wife's winter outfit, women have gained social status by wearing animal pelts. This has helped bring some fur-bearing species, including the leopard, to the brink of extermination. Other creatures — notably Steller's Sea Cow and the passenger pigeon, have vanished because they were good to eat.

And lest the ladies think they're the only ones being called upon to make a sacrifice, it should be noted that the Fauna Preservation Society, which asked Prince Philip to speak to his wife about the coat, also has requested the Lord Mayor of London to take green turtle soup off the menu at his annual banquet.

Ghost Must Learn To Swim

By WICK TEMPLE
(For Hal Boyle)

MONTE NE, Ark. (AP)—Coin Harvey's ghost is going to have to learn to swim.

Within a few months, the decaying monument Harvey built in this Ozark Mountain village will be under 15 feet of water from the new Beaver reservoir.

And it's probably a happy piece of irony for the old cynic who once ran for president on the Liberty party ticket.

Harvey predicted that his mountain paradise would be covered with earth by land upheavals after our civilization perished. Instead, it will be covered with water in a $45.5-million project that will provide hydroelectric power and flood control to flourishing northwest Arkansas.

Harvey, a noted lawyer in Chicago and Denver, Colo., became famous in the 1880s with books advocating the free coinage of silver. He was a close adviser to William Jennings Bryan when Bryan ran for president in 1896.

After Bryan was defeated and the Democratic party scuttled the gold question as an issue, Harvey gave up U.S. civilization as a bad deal and moved to the remote Ozarks.

He found a beautiful valley, rich from flowing springs, combined a word of Latin origin with an Omaha Indian word to name the town Monte Ne—Mountain Water.

He built elaborate log hotels on the slopes surrounding the valley. He ran a private railroad from nearby Rogers, brought gondolas from Venice to carry passengers across lagoons from the terminal to the hotels.

In the first years of this century, Monte Ne was a lively place. Well-heeled vacationers came from all over the nation to Harvey's never-never land.

Harvey married his secretary and they lived peacefully above the lagoons. But he couldn't stay out of politics.

The Liberty party renewed the fight for free silver and nominated Harvey as its standard-bearer.

Harvey cut into a hillside an astounding stone amphitheater, and the party held its convention there in 1932, nominating the 80-year-old Harvey for president. He got only 50,000 votes, and his disillusionment was complete.

He decided to build a pyramid that would be above the range of the earth movement he predicted would cover the Ozarks. In his plan, the tip of the pyramid would protrude from the rubble with a marker saying "Look below and find the records of a lost civilization."

In the pyramid would be such items as a phonograph, a car, Bible, encyclopedias, histories and a guide book to help the finder decipher the English language.

The pyramid foundation was built, but the structure was never finished. Harvey died in 1936 and was entombed with his long-dead son in concrete beside a lagoon, near the amphitheater.

Army engineers recently moved the tomb to higher ground. It will be on the banks of the reservoir.

A baby can now be given a blood transfusion while still in the mother's womb.

Even those physicians and surgeons who have witnessed the "miraculous wonders" of the past 25 years are impressed by the new ingenious advance.

In an effort to neutralize the dangers of RH blood factors to the unborn child, such a transfusion was performed. Following a technique devised and successfully used in New Zealand by Dr. A. W. Liley, a 32-week-old unborn child was given 100 cubic centimeters of blood — without harm to the mother or the child.

This procedure, performed only in carefully selected cases, holds forth great promise that RH children will be born healthier, and will be able to progress, without difficulty, to normal infancy.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Profits still point upward. Early reports on second-quarter operations and reassuring predictions at annual stockholder meetings are in near unanimous agreement on the trend. The dollar volume is rising. This should continue for a while.

But there the unanimity ends. How to interpret profits; even how to figure them; what they should mean to workers, stockholders and customers; how would-be investors should react — there you have a wide choice. Labor is using the record net earnings after taxes that are being reported or predicted by many companies as a talking point in demanding higher wage scales, and some unions seem likely to get them.

Stockholders dream of higher dividend payments, and the total continues to rise. The government has suggested that customers might share in the happy event if prices were cut a bit as profits rise. But management usually replies that increasing production costs make that unlikely.

Wall Street eyes rising stock prices to see if they're advancing faster than dividends. This makes returns on investment really less glamorous than they might seem without close inspection.

And corporate treasurers and presidents point out that the announced profit figures themselves can give the wrong impression to the general public, unless they're lined up against all the other changes in the economy. But the dollar profits are piling up. Much of this is because sales volume and increased production multiply earnings at a fast rate after the break-even point is passed. Part of the faster net income is due to the lower federal tax on gross corporate earnings. A lot is the result of cost-cutting and labor-saving devices.

Management argues that the profit increase so far is merely a catching up after earlier stagnation. And it says that today's profits are still much too low if industry is to expand and provide all the higher-priced plant and machinery that are called for in bringing the economy up to potential.

Strategic Choices

By John Chamberlain

The war goes badly in South Vietnam. Meanwhile, the Administration shows no signs of listening to some of our most experienced hands in Far Eastern warfare.

General Albert Wedemeyer's proposal to bring the Formosan Chinese into SEATO, and to let some of Chiang Kai-shek's troops take a hand in the defense of South Vietnam is ignored. And the similar ideas of General Charles Willoughby, who was MacArthur's G-2 for a decade of Pacific war and military occupation, get as far as inclusion in the Congressional Record, where they languish and die.

Willoughby's spokesman in Congress is Representative Daniel Flood of Pennsylvania, who is impressed with the argument that it would be futile to commit what Willoughby calls "the expensive American draftee" to the tropical jungles of Southeast Asia. For a decade, so Willoughby has pointed out to Flood, the French poured thousands of conscripts from Europe and Morocco into what used to be known as French Indochina, only to lose the war in 1954 with the collapse at Dienbienphu.

In 1952 in Vietnam the French had 561,000 men available for the war. These could be broken down into 76,000 from metropolitan France, 17,000 from The Foreign Legion, 37,000 North Africans, 21,000 Senegalese, and 100,000 native units, plus the divisions from the provincial Cambodian, Laotian and Vietnamese armies. At the end of the French effort came to nothing precisely because regular army manpower, in a guerrilla-infested region, is not the key to victory.

Willoughby's recommendation to President Kennedy was to use the West's "magic" weapons — the nuclear armament — "to offset the inexhaustible manpower of Asia" in the Vietnam theatre. "The expensive Western draftee," so he wrote the late President, "cannot be equated with the illiterate, Asiatic cannon-fodder, armed with Czech or Soviet machine guns. The use of American ground troops in attrition suicide... The use of modern weapons (and the air delivery system) imposes no more moral strain than when Truman unleashed the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima — indeed, the provocation was far less..." The Hiroshima population, so Willoughby points out, included thousands of harmless stenographers and clerks, whereas we would be cutting at bridges and distribution points in North Vietnam if we were to use the bomb in that region.

With deference to the recent growth of "ban-the-atom-bomb" public opinion, however, General Willoughby's most recent advice as set forth to Representative Flood is to extend the war to North Vietnam by bombs, which would be sufficient to the task of disrupting the Communist supply lines. The road network from Hanoi, in North Vietnam, via Nape, Khami Keu, Chepone and Attopu in Laos, could be reached from any American aircraft carrier lying off the Vietnam coast. This would involve disrespect for the "neutrality" of Laos, but the Communists have been violating that neutrality right along.

This column does not pretend to any expertise in the sort of warfare needed to discourage the North Vietnamese to the point where they would be willing to call off their infiltration of South Vietnam. But it does insist that alternatives, when offered by military men with long experience in Asia, should at least be discussed, without bringing on charges about "right-wing plots." The New York publicist, Marvin Liebman, takes the Willoughby view that Americans are dying uselessly in the jungles of Southeast Asia in a type of warfare that cannot be won. But when he undertook as a private citizen to draft a statement of protest to be circulated for the signatures of the next-of-kin of 127 Americans killed in Vietnam from January, 1961 through March of 1964, he was promptly smeared as "a former member of the Young Communist League." The fact is that Liebman's momentary dalliance with Communism was a youthful indiscretion that happened twenty-two years ago. When Senator Joe McCarthy reached two decades into the past to smear certain liberals as former Communists, the hue and cry in liberal circles was terrific. But nobody cries out when "McCarthyism" is practiced by the liberal side.

The statement drafted by Liebman in cooperation with Mr. Charles Tuthill, whose son was killed in Vietnam last October, was published as an advertisement that was paid for with $4,000 raised by Charles Edison, former Governor of New Jersey, from some thirty individuals. All the advertisement did was to raise the question of "why" in relation to the GI deaths in Southeast Asia.

With Secretary McNamara taking five trips to Vietnam in hopes of providing an answer to the same question, where does the "right-wing plot" come in?

Yankees Earning More Than Ever

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans are earning more than ever.

This became evident during the week with a report by the Commerce Department that personal income in April rose to a record level.

They're spending it at a record pace, too.

This was shown by zooming sales by automobile manufacturers and department stores and variety store chains.

Personal income, continuing its steady gain of recent months, climbed $2.2 billion last month to an annual rate of $483.1 billion.

Of the total increase, $1.6 billion was in wages and salaries, and of that amount half was in wage and salary payments in manufacturing industries.

The big department store chain, Sears, Roebuck & Co., reported record first-quarter profits and forecast record sales and earnings for the year.

The variety chain, F. W. Woolworth Co., said sales were running 18 per cent ahead of a year ago.

John A. Barr, chairman of another department store chain, Montgomery Ward & Co., predicted that consumer spending should rise more than 6 per cent this year to $398 billion and retail sales should increase about 6 per cent to $262 billion.

Both gains would exceed those of 1963 when consumer spending climbed 5 per cent to $373 billion and retail sales 4 per cent to $246 billion.

The Commerce Department reported that U.S. production of goods and services ran at an annual rate of $608 billion in the first quarter of this year. This was a bit below its original estimate of $608.5 billion. The lag was attributed by officials to the reduced rate at which businesses built inventories during the quarter.

Orders received by durable goods manufacturers in April increased 7 per cent. New orders totaled $20.6 billion against $19.3 billion in March. Shipments climbed by $500 million to $19.4 billion.

On the darker side, housing starts in April slacked off to the slowest pace since last summer. Starts dropped 6 per cent from March to an annual rate of 1,558,000, the Census Bureau reported.

This rate was the lowest since the 1,455,000 rate of last August and was 4 per cent below the April 1963 rate of 1,618,000.

However, an economist for the National Association of Home Builders said the April decline wasn't a surprise because the rate "just couldn't keep going up," as it had in recent months.

Steel production boomed during the week to the highest level in almost a year. Output rose to 2,513,000 tons from 2,492,000 the previous week.

Automobile production dipped during the week to an estimated 170,098 passenger cars from 174,662 last week, but was far ahead of the 149,049 built a year ago.

Auto Club Urges Safety On Holiday

Lewis Cook, president of the local Circleville Auto Club and owner of Lewis E. Cook and Son Insurance Agency, urged that all drivers to exercise safety during the coming Memorial Day Weekend.

He stated that it is estimated that more than 500 people will lose their lives on the highways during the coming holidays.

Cook said, "As an insurance man I have seen these needless traffic accidents, deaths and injuries happen every year at this time." He gave these simple suggestions:

1. If you must travel allow plenty of time. . . more than normal because millions of motorists will be on the road.

2. Don't take unnecessary chances by following too close, passing or speeding. It's better to arrive a little late than not at all.

Wittenberg, Capital Choirs Going Abroad

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Choirs of two Ohio Lutheran universities—Capital of Columbus and Wittenberg of Springfield—plan Asian and European tours, respectively, beginning in June.

The Capital choir has the most ambitious program for its itinerary, extending from June 1 to July 21.

Capital's tour will be in three stages. The first will open with a concert in Lebanon, Ohio, June 1 and end at Anchorage, Alaska June 17-19. The second stage begins June 21 in Tokyo and ends July 8-10 in Honolulu. The third stage begins in Los Altos, Calif., July 11 and ends at Lakeside, Ohio, July 21.

In the Asian tour, concerts are scheduled in Tokyo, Nagoya and Kyoto, Japan; Hong Kong, Formosa, Okinawa and Honolulu.

The choir, conducted by Prof. Ellis Emanuel Snyder, was founded in 1928. It went through the Berlin Wall in 1962 for a concert in the Communist-controlled section of Germany.

Walnut-Madison Honors 122 Graduates at Banquet Fete

Approximately 200 persons gathered Saturday evening to observe the 23rd annual Madison-Walnut Alumni Banquet.

The annual event, honoring the graduating Class of 1949 this year, was conducted at Walnut School. The evening dinner was prepared and served by Nebraska Grange.

Seven members of the honor class of 1949 were present. One of the highlight accomplishments of this class was the winning of Walnut's only Pickaway County basketball tournament championship.

Roll call disclosed 122 graduates from all years were present. Receiving special recognition was Anna Hedges, a graduate of 72 years ago who has missed only one Alumni Banquet since initiation of the fete.

ADDITIONAL recognition went to the Classes of 1914, 1929 and 1939.

The evening's call to order was by Chet Peters, alumni president. Serving as master of ceremonies was Charles Hines, next year's president.

A round of pleasing entertainment was provided by the "2 by 4s" barbershop quartet from the Ashville Community. Members are Jack Lemon, tenor; Dick Cook, lead; Don Flierl, bass; and Chet Peters, baritone.

Other officers on president Hines' slate for the coming year are: Marvin Spangler, vice president; Helen McCray, secretary-treasurer; Eva Ett, assistant secretary-treasurer; Phyllis Williams, news reporter; Harold Fisher, Madison adviser.

Other business for the Saturday session included reports by Elaine Winter, this year's secretary-treasurer. Also serving as officers for the 1964 banquet were Dolly Hay, Madison adviser, and Jo Ann Smallwood, news reporter.

On the nominating committee were Don Forquer Jr., Rosemary Hansen, Luther Smith and Elizabeth Dunkel. Decorating was handled by Glen and Eva Ett, Joe and Harriett Hedges, Robert and Jane Bausum, Neal and Jean Brown, Waldo Swoyer, Warren Kinsell, Bud and Beverly Nance, Bill and Faye Tootle, Bill Six and Wayne and Erma Hines.

The program invocation was by Everett Beers. Round and square dancing followed the dinner and business session, with music provided by Larry Hines.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is distinguished by its grim determination to yield none of its privileges. It has two rules of conduct: One for itself and a different one for other people.

It is supposed to be the symbol of democratic government, but for years some of its members, mostly liberal senators, have urged Congress to do to itself what it requires others to do.

Now it's being urged anew as a result of the Bobby Baker case—but once again, embarrassed though it is, it will probably do nothing. This is what is meant:

Congress years ago passed a law, and later tightened and broadened it, to prevent conflict of interest among employees of the executive branch of government. Conflict of interest means mixing a government job with personal gain.

For example: Men appointed by the president to high position are required to get rid of stock they hold in companies dealing with the government. But this does not apply to members of Congress or its employees.

Liberal senators have proposed Congress pass similar legislation on itself, its own code of ethics to prevent conflict of interest. Congress has ignored them.

But from last November until March the Senate Rules Committee investigated the financial doings of Baker who, as secretary of the Democratic majority in the Senate, earned $19,600 a year.

The investigation disclosed that while he held this job he had accumulated a business fortune of about $2 million. He was called to testify but refused to.

While the full Senate authorized the committee to examine the financial or business interests or activities of any Senate employee, it did not authorize the investigation of any senator who might have been involved with Baker.

Baker was a fantastic wheeler and dealer. A report prepared by the committee staff last week, while attaching no criminal blame to him, accused him of "gross improprieties" in getting his job mixed up with private business.

But the report was harsh on the Senate, saying: "No amount of sophistry can relieve the Senate of the public criticism now directed against it."

The report suggested that to protect its name the Senate should write a code of ethics for itself. And it proposed the Senate and its employees be compelled to disclose publicly their outside income and its sources.

The Senate Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, opposed this suggestion as he had similar ones in the past.

By James Marlow

He said, "I have never been in favor of making 'class b' citizens out of senators."

Another proposal in the committee report ran into broad opposition in the Senate: This would forbid a senator to intercede with any government agency on behalf of a corporation doing business with the government.

In a place like the Senate, where each member has tremendous power and is jealous of it, there is enormous resistance to changing any rules or diminishing any privileges. This is truly a club, and a very exclusive one.

The disclosures in the Baker case—the spectacle of this nimble young man, so close to many senators, becoming a millionaire while working for the Senate—was a shock to all 100 members.

It raises a natural question: If all this could happen with just one young man, what else is going on there? If the senators voted to disclose their outside income, the public would have both a check and an insight.

But the Senate, shocked though it is, has been through other unpleasant moments in its long history and will probably do nothing as it sighs and waits for this storm to pass away, thinking, perhaps, in time all things pass away.

Add Beauty, Convenience To Bathroom

By ELEANOR ROSS

As is so frequently pointed out, modernizing the bathroom need not involve a drastic change in fixtures or wall treatment. And contriving a shower stall is not necessarily a major project these days. A new group of "do-it-yourself" bathroom fittings suggests ways of adding both beauty and convenience for only a moderate investment in labor and money.

A new type of "door" for the bathtub — in soft white or pastel — is made of flexible, plastic panels framed in gold or silver aluminum. This attractive unit is designed to rest atop the outside rim of the tub, converting it into a shower stall.

The translucent panels, which slide on smooth tracks, fold accordion-wise at the touch of a hand to permit access to the tub from either end. This, of course, is a feature any homemaker will appreciate, since it makes scrubbing out the tub that much easier.

When the shower door is finished off with a wide decorative aluminum grill across the top, the result is luxurious privacy. No additional space has been appropriated, and there are no swingout doors to interfere with normal traffic.

These same plastic panels may also serve as entire shower walls, creating a separate shower stall in one corner of the bathroom — or wherever there might be space for an extra shower in the house.

As a bright new note for "tired" decor, a valance rod for the shower curtain, or an additional safety bar on the tub wall, can be easily installed. Two-tone anodized aluminum in gold or silver gives these accessories a high-fashion look.

The valance, concealing the shower curtain hooks, fits snugly to the walls via a spring-loaded mechanism — or it can be installed with screws, if preferred. A matching window curtain valance completes the picture.

Two patterns are available in these bathroom fittings, in seven color tones and with a choice of gold or silver framing. Their non-crackable, non-breakable virtues, combined with ease of keeping clean, promise a long life of service and beauty.

A soapy sponge, followed by a clean rinse cloth, will keep both aluminum and plastic panning clean and bright.

While the panels are flexible and soft to the touch, they are sufficiently rigid when extended, to make swabbing all surfaces quick and easy.

Dear Abby: A Lot of Scratch!

Wedding Gifts Will Enhance Daily Routine

By ELEANOR ROSS

Others may joke about a bride's first home-cooked meal, but to her it's a very, very important occasion. She takes pride in setting her table with her treasured wedding gifts — the gleaming sterling flatware from her kin; the lovely china from a favorite aunt; the crystal goblets from friends.

She makes good use of her wonderful wedding gifts instead of hoarding them for that "special occasion."

So, the first company dinner takes place — but what about that second dinner, and the third, and all the ones to follow?

It's just as easy to set a table with nice things as with ordinary ones, and infinitely more rewarding. Those beautiful wedding presents were meant to be used and enjoyed, not at rare intervals, but every day. That's why they were given; that was their purpose — to enhance the routine of daily living.

And meantime is the ideal time for a large helping of beauty. A pretty table setting adds so much to any meal. And, there's no doubt about it — from a purely practical point of view, daily use is the best possible method of caring for sterling silver.

Sterling actually becomes lovelier as tiny "use lines" build up the lustrous patina so admired in old silver. And, used daily, silver seldom needs polishing.

No doubt about it—a well-set table means a lot to a man, too. It's far more than just pride in owning things of quality. Most men recognize that a beautiful set table shows that someone cares, that his wife is a prideful homemaker.

As children come along, the dinner table becomes more and more the focus of family life. It may be the one time of day when the family is together, and the setting does a great deal to influence the kind of atmosphere that will prevail.

Many young mothers have found that a nicely set table actually promotes good manners — on the part of adults as well as children.

And youngsters can learn to appreciate fine things only by having an opportunity to use them.

The new homemaker to whom those "burnt sacrifice" jokes are addressed has more reason than ever to use her sterling and those other nice things. A lovely table makes food taste better. So what if, at first, it isn't quite gourmet fare?

No More Guessing

ANSONIA, Ohio (AP) — Thanks to a newly wired fire map, Ansonia's 24-man volunteer fire department has become more efficient.

The map, which shows 600 properties in the department's bailiwick, required 4,800 feet of wire and 300 bulbs.

When a fire is reported, the bulb nearest the scene is switched on.

Fire Chief Garold Oswald said before the map was installed, "Whoever got to the station first took the truck and the rest guessed where the fire was."

every morning those chickens head right for my bulbs. So far I have had about $200 worth of fine imported bulbs scratched up. I don't want to fence in my property because it will ruin the looks of it; neither do I want to start a feud with my neighbors. Have you any suggestion?

LOVES FLOWERS

DEAR LOVES: I assume you have already complained to your neighbors. If you have, and were ignored, ask your lawyer to write them a letter pointing out their legal responsibilities. If that doesn't work, you may have to sue. Two hundred dollars worth of bulbs is not chicken feed.

DEAR ABBY: When a child must go to the hospital for a tonsillectomy operation and the mother is unable to go, isn't it all right for the father to be there instead? A friend of mine, right out of the blue, asked me how I could have stayed away from my child at a time like that. She said nothing in the world could have kept HER away if it had been her child. She hurt me terribly when she said that. Abby, I have small children at home and no one to leave them with, and things beyond my control made it impossible for me to go to the hospital that day. Did I do wrong?

HURT
DEAR HURT: No. Your friend was just blabbing an unkind word of the hurt she was causing — at least if she is a GOOD friend.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter's girl friend has asked my daughter and four other girls to be her bridesmaids. She made it clear that each girl was expected to pay for her own gown. The bride and her mother picked out the gowns without asking any of the bridesmaids for an opinion about price. Both my daughter and I were shocked when we found out how much the gowns cost. This bride has very expensive tastes, which she herself cannot afford. I think if the bride wants her bridesmaids to wear such expensive gowns, she should pay for them. My daughter says she would rather turn down the honor of being a bridesmaid than complain about the price. To give you an idea of how overboard the bride went, each dress is $69.95, plus tax! And my daughter has never spent more than HALF that amount on even her best dress. I would like some advice.

DEAR MOTHER: Since the price of the gown is more than twice what your daughter would ordinarily spend on a gown, I think she would show good judgment to decline the "honor."

CONFIDENTIAL TO "E": If you let a man know that you believe him to be faithful, it will help to keep him that way. Call a man a cheat and you give him ideas.

REGAINS CITIZENSHIP — Mrs. Angelika Schneider, 29, the German-born woman who took loss of her U.S. citizenship to the U.S. Supreme Court and won it back, smiles happily on deplaning in New York for a visit with friends and relatives. The court ruled unconstitutional a 1940 law which takes away American citizenship if they return to their homeland for more than three years. Mrs. Schneider, mother of four boys, is married to a lawyer in Cologne, Germany.

Meeting Postponed
The meeting of Berger Hospital Guild No. 20 originally scheduled for tomorrow evening in the home of Mrs. Donald Hulse, Route 1, has been postponed until June 3.

Ohio Family Says Thanks For GI Effort in Asia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The William M. Geiger family of Kettering, Ohio, wanted to express its thanks to American servicemen facing danger in far-off South Viet Nam.

So William M. Geiger sat down and wrote a sort of open letter addressed "to fighting Americans in South Viet Nam." It offered "a meager token of our appreciation," and a prayer.

The Geigers sent the letter to their congressman, Rep. Paul Schenck, R-Ohio, who forwarded it to the Defense Department.

There Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara read the letter, was moved by it and saw that it was sent all the way to Viet Nam—in an official cable to Gen. Paul D. Harkins, U.S. military commander there.

This is what the letter said: My family and I wish to acknowledge that we care very much about your fighting in South Viet Nam. We realize, were it not for men like you in Viet Nam, the situation in that country would be a graver threat to free men throughout the world.

"Although this is a meager token of our appreciation, we want you to know our heartfelt thanks and gratitude are with you. Were it not for men like you throughout American history, a country great as ours could not be.

"May God grant you strength through."

Gratefully yours,
The William M. Geiger family.

Bible Names Are Given to Quad Boys

CINCINNATI (AP)—Matthew, Mark, Luke and John are the names of the Mincey quadruplets of Cincinnati.

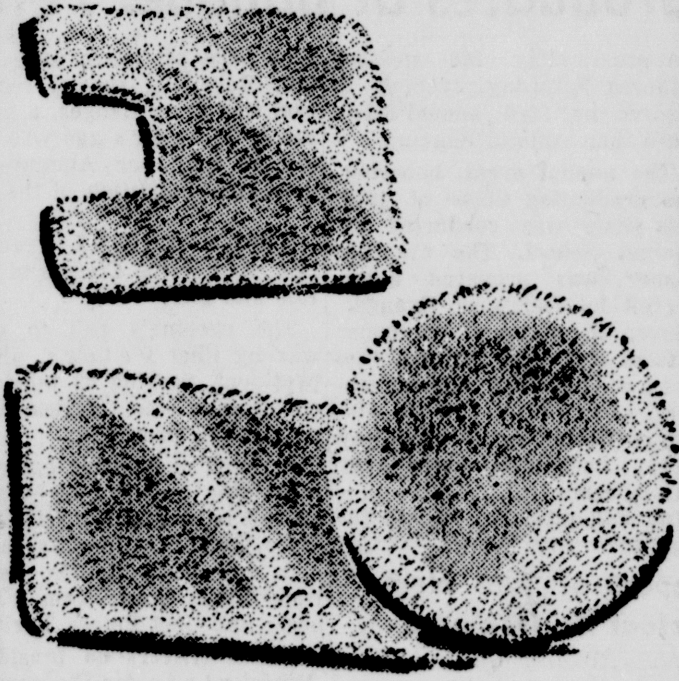

The identical boys were named Sunday by the proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Mincey—already the parents of four other boys and a girl.

The quads and their 39-year-old mother Willie Mae were reported in good condition. The sons are in incubators and are expected to stay in the hospital until they weigh five pounds each.

They were born Friday morning, and two of them have lost weight, but that is expected. The largest now weighs three pounds, 10½ ounces and the smallest two pounds, 14 ounces.

Humphrey Is Proving His Mettle With Civil Rights Bill in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Humphrey, and to many conservatives he has personified what they mean when they refer to a wild-eyed left-winger. Most of them probably still feel this way, but there has been some shifting, even in the South.

During the present filibuster Humphrey and Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., were exchanging exaggerated compliments, each wishing the other would change sides.

"There is no one else with whom I would rather discuss these complex matters," Humphrey said.

Robertson said he had been asked how Humphrey would run as a vice-presidential candidate in Virginia, and that he had replied: "Better than some."

That may not be much of an endorsement, but it is a large improvement over 1948.

Humphrey's present stature is the more surprising when one recalls a bleak, drizzly day four years ago in West Virginia. There, in the Democratic presidential primaries, Humphrey lost to Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Everything had pointed to a Humphrey victory.

He was a Protestant campaigning against a Roman Catholic in a Protestant state. He spoke the homey, plain folks language—"I know what it means to be without money"—that should have had great appeal in a state hard hit by the steady decline of the coal mines.

But Kennedy won by an 8-5 margin. For Humphrey it was a galling public humiliation.

At 1 a.m. on May 11, 1960, he withdrew from the presidential race, managed a wan smile, and trudged gamely through the rain to the victor's hotel to offer congratulations.

"It was nice of you to come over, Hubert," Kennedy said.

Those who were there that night were unanimous in believing that nationally Humphrey had become a political has-been.

But Humphrey went home, won re-election to the Senate, and helped Kennedy carry Minnesota, the only one of the northern Great Plains states that didn't go to Richard M. Nixon.

Humphrey hasn't slowed down perceptibly. At 53 his hairline is threatening to retreat and his beltline is threatening to advance, but his zest appears unquenchable.

On a recent trip to Minneapolis, Humphrey put on a characteristic performance.

As head of the state's Democratic party, he gave a pep talk to 200 political workers, moved along for a speech to 1,000 or more bankers, dropped by to help a labor leader celebrate his 25th wedding anniversary and at 11:45 p.m. wound up at an informal fund-raising meeting for Rep. Donald M. Fraser, D-Minn.

At the meeting Humphrey plunged into a 50-minute speech on civil rights.

"I never heard him more eloquent," says a staff member who was there.

Humphrey never bleeds for humanity while blindly ignoring human beings.

A girl from his office was planning a wedding when her father died. If she decided to go ahead, could Humphrey give her away? Of course he could. He had such a good time at the reception he was hours late for his next appointment.

Humphrey was loaded with work in December when the wife of his chauffeur died. As assistant Democratic leader in the Senate he rates a government limousine.

His driver, Tom Graham, asked if the senator could deliver his wife's eulogy. Of course he could.

Shortly after he first came to the Senate Humphrey attacked Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., and other senators promptly filed out, leaving him alone.

He may have been thinking of this when he said recently: "In the Senate you learn manners. You learn to have manners without sacrificing convictions."

Humphrey hopes these painfully learned manners will help now.

Although no senator has had more fun lambasting Republicans, he needs their help. The picture, of Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, who calls the GOP signals on civil rights, has twice appeared in Humphrey's newsletter to his constituents.

Humphrey says he is getting along all right with the South-

Korean Author Not Sure He Likes Sudden Fame

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A year ago, Korean-born Richard E. Kim found himself in a tight situation.

Having lived for several years on scholarships and fellowships at American colleges, he found himself in need of a job to support his wife and two children. He tried for teaching posts at 20 colleges and universities; despite his credentials — three separate M.A. degrees — all turned him down.

Kim had written a novel as part of his master's thesis at the University of Iowa, a story of life in the Korean War. A half-dozen publishers had rejected it, some with form letters of regret.

Then Kim's luck changed. George Braziller agreed to publish his novel, "The Martyred." And Long Beach State College came through with a job teaching English.

The book leaped into the best-seller list on the strength of sensational reviews.

In his office between classes, Kim spoke quietly of his sudden fame.

"I'm not so sure I like all this," he said worriedly. "I find myself doing a lot of things I shouldn't be doing, like making speeches and appearing on television. I should be writing instead."

Kim, 32, is slightly built, with a handsome face that seems inexpressive until he allows a burst of nervous laughter. He was a freshman at Seoul National University when the Korean War started in 1950 and was forced into army training when Communists captured the capital. He escaped to become a ROK lieutenant and an aide to the commander of the U.S. 7th Division.

He went to Middlebury College in Vermont to study history and political philosophy and later switched to writing when he was able to think in English without translating. He became an American citizen a week ago.

Lake Erie Pollution May Make 'Dead Sea'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lake Erie is "well on its way to becoming America's dead sea" because of its polluted waters, according to James Quigley of the Health, Education and Welfare Department. "Lake Erie is the shallowest of the Great Lakes and can stand the least abuse of all," Quigley, an assistant secretary, said Sunday on a television program.

Quigley said the government will recommend ways of curing the lake's ills on the basis of a study now being made on lake conditions. Then it would become the responsibility of states bordering Lake Erie and of local communities to join the federal government "to save the dying lake," he said.

Both have rural backgrounds. Humphrey was born over a Wallace, S.D., drugstore, and grew up in Doland, S.D., population 487. As the Senate's only pharmacist, he still has the friendly air of a small town druggist.

Both lived through the depression—and it still influences their thinking. Because of it, Humphrey had to drop out of college, finally finishing while his wife, Muriel, worked to help pay the bills.

Johnson has said that for his running mate he will choose the man who is best for the country, but by a coincidence this may also prove to be the man best for Johnson.

No one knows this better than Humphrey.

"I'm not shopping around for a new job," Humphrey says. Smack in the middle of this generation's most troubling controversy, he has a fair-sized job right now.

Circleville Places Three Players on All-League Team

Three members of the Circleville High School baseball team were named to the All-South Central Ohio League baseball team, selected yesterday in Washington C. H. by the loop baseball coaches.

They are George Reeser, Dave Bass and Chet Iery Jr. Making the honorable mention list are Howard Dade and Skip Lutz.

Reeser and Bass were named to the coaches' mythical team last year. Both are seniors. For Iery, the Tiger centerfielder, it is the first time he has been named to the unit.

Iery was the leading Circleville hitter, finishing the year with a .351 average. Bass and Reeser each had .333 averages.

ROUNDING out the All-League pitching staff were Jon Warden, senior, Pleasant View and Steve Warner, junior, Washington C. H.

Three catchers were picked. Bob Neely, a senior from Pleasant View was a unanimous choice of the coaches to take the top receiving spot.

Mike Bryant, a junior from Franklin Heights, and Moe Gray, a junior from Miami Trace, were tied in the balloting.

Paschal Wins 600; Roberts Is Hurt

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Veteran Jim Paschal finally struck it rich Sunday, winning a wreck-marred World 600-mile stock car race which left Glenn (Fireball) Roberts hospitalized with critical burns.

Roberts, biggest career money winner in NASCAR history, remained in critical condition early today. He had third-degree burns over most of his body.

Paschal, 38 and a 17-year racing veteran, breezed to his first major victory and $24,555 after the other contenders were eliminated by wrecks or mechanical difficulties.

Roberts, of Daytona Beach, Junior Johnson of Ronda, N.C., and Ned Jarrett of Camden, S.C., were involved in the worst of several wrecks that sidelined other top names such as Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach.

2250 Golfers Start in Open

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some 2,250 golfers take the first step toward qualifying for the U.S. Open today and Tuesday at 54 different courses from Washington, D.C.—site of this year's open—to Honolulu, Hawaii.

The golfers will play 36 holes either Monday or Tuesday, with a total of 428 going on to sectional qualifying rounds on June 8-9.

Defending champion Julius Boros and 20 other players are exempt from any qualifying tests, and another 45 players are not required to go through the local qualifying phase.

Navy's football team will play four games in Pennsylvania next fall — Penn State, Pitt, Notre Dame and Army.

Scot Could Dominate Annual '500'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—If Scot Jimmy Clark dominates the 48th Indianapolis 500-mile Auto Race Saturday as he did the 10-mile time trials, he will start lapping the field about 15 minutes after the start.

While Clark was winning the Dutch Grand Prix Sunday in a campaign to repeat as world road racing champion, the fourth and final session of qualifications was run off at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway's 2½-mile oval. It mostly was an exercise in futility.

There were four positions open in the 33-car Memorial Day field and after 21 drivers presented themselves at the starting line, the four best performances ranged from 151.2 miles an hour by Art Malone of Tampa, Fla., in the third Studebaker-Novis to make the field, to 148.7 by Bill Cheesbourg of Tucson, Ariz., in a conventional front-engine Offenhauser.

The 158.8 record set by Clark in a rear-engine Lotus-Ford, in the opening hour of the trials May 16, was never approached in the subsequent sessions.

'Richard Merrin' Park Dedication Set Memorial Day

The Fredericktown Council, in a special session last week, named the village park the Richard Merrin Memorial Park.

Merrin, who was killed last October, was the father of Logan Elm basketball, football and track coach Keith Merrin.

His widow, Mrs. Richard Merrin and son Russ, have moved to the Circleville area. They live in the Logan Elm school district. Sonya, a daughter, is a student at Capital University, Columbus.

Merrin, an avid sports booster in Fredericktown, was very active in the Little League program there. The council named the park on the suggestion of Little League officials.

Dedication ceremonies will be held Memorial Day at the park.

8 High Schools Garner Honors in Spring Tests

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Eight high schools representing nearly every section of the state basked today in the glory of championship honors won in the Ohio high school four - sport carnival.

After the sprinting, slugging, driving and serving was completed at Ohio State University mammoth athletic plant Saturday, these winners were crowned state champions:

—Dayton Dunbar, Class AA track-field champion.

—Craig Wallace of Dayton Dunbar, individual Class AA track-field performer.

—Fairport Harbor, Class A track-field champion.

—Mike Thomas of Fairport Harbor, outstanding individual Class A track-field performer.

—Lima Senior, Class AA baseball champion.

—Baltimore Liberty - Union, Class A baseball champion.

—Barberton Norton, team golf champion.

—Ross Bartschy Jr. of Upper Arlington, golf individual champion.

—Paul Mitchell and Mike Jeffries of Worthington, doubles tennis champions.

—Bazzie Pierce of Dayton Oakwood, singles tennis champion.

Wallace was a one-man show in the 57th annual track meet. He scored all 18 of Dunbar's points by winning three events—the 100 and 220-yard dashes and the broad jump.

His performance gave Dunbar its second straight championship. One point behind with 17 was Cleveland Glenview, winner of the 880-yard relay.

John Linta of Mansfield Malabar smashed the state high school pole vault record with a leap of 14 feet, 5½ inches. The old record, shared by Linta and Jim Showers of Marion Harding, was 13-10¼.

Mike Thomas sparked Fairport Harbor to its Class A

CHS Golfers Tie for 11th In State Meet

The Circleville High School golf team finished tied for 11th place in the final standings of the state high school golf tournament Saturday at Columbus.

The Tigers scored a team total of 656, 21 strokes off the pace set by the winning Barberton Norton foursome.

Bruce Helwag carded a 37-40-77 Saturday to add to his 75 of Friday. He finished in the top ten individuals in the meet.

There were 25 teams in the field.

CHUCK SMITH carded a 39-44-83 and Richard Fuhrman had a 44-39-83 while Dick Patrick finished with a 45-43-88.

Bob Ransom, Tiger golf coach, reported the South Central Ohio League is considering holding a fall match shortly after the beginning of school.

He noted the Washington Country Club has offered to host such an event. From this year's team, Richard Fuhrman and Chuck Smith will be returning. Patrick and Helwag are both seniors.

Barberton Norton captured the team golf crown by scoring 635 points, two ahead of Troy with 633. Defending champion Kettering Fairmont was third with 638.

Bartschy's 72-73-145 earned him the individual golf title, four better than runner-up Bob Viets with 72-77-149.

In tennis, Mitchell and Jeffries won the doubles trophy by defeating Corky Leighton and Chuck Parsons of Springfield North, 6-4, 6-4. Pierce took the singles crown by turning back Randy Wertz of Toledo DeVilbiss, 8-6, 6-4.

Don Demeter, Dave Wickersham and Bubba Phillips of the Detroit Tigers are members of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Betsy Rawls Likes Mickey's Cooking

DALLAS (AP) — There was talk of how much home cooking does for you in golf — if it's done by your toughest rival — when Betsy Rawls won the $13,500 Dallas Civitan Open Sunday.

Betsy stayed with her pal, Mickey Wright, here while playing in the Civitan. And it was Miss Wright, the biggest winner in women's golf, with whom she staged a duel for the championship. She won the $2,100 first money by two strokes with a 72-hole total of 282.

"She just fed me too well," said Miss Rawls, the talkative ex-Texan from Spartanburg, S.C. "She stayed with me when we played at Spartanburg and I fed her blackeyed peas and other good stuff. So she beat me. Now I stayed with her here and she fed me so well I went out and won the Civitan from her."

Views on Television—Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
 NEW YORK (AP)—Television re-runs present faithful viewers with problems not encountered in other entertainment areas.
 Few television shows prove so utterly fascinating that viewers want to savor them a second time around. That is particularly true of comedy—where an important ingredient is the viewer's surprise—and in the action-adventure stories.
 There may be some who can chuckle repeatedly at the surprised look on a lady's face on "Candid Camera" Sunday night—when she finds that a cigarette she had just put into an ashtray had disappeared. This viewer didn't laugh the first time. Nor did I roar as did the studio audience at the anger of an earnest plumber puzzled by having beer run out of a leaky faucet and confronted with insults from the make-believe businessman who summoned him.
 The second re-run problem for most of us viewers is that we are creatures of habits formed during the cold weather months. We sampled the network offerings last September and October, made our choices

Mt. Union Wins Conference Track

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—The Purple Raiders of Mount Union College have become the first Ohio Conference team to sweep all three legs of the conference track competition.
 The Raiders piled up 67 points to win the 61st annual outdoor track and field championship here Saturday. Last month they won the conference relays and in March they took the indoor track championship.
 Akron University, defending champion of the outdoor trophy the past three years, was second in Saturday's meet with 39 points. Ohio Wesleyan was third with 38 and Baldwin-Wallace was fourth with 25 points.
 The Sterling Geesman trophy for the meet's outstanding performance was voted to Dave Mooney, Mount Union's sprinter and relay team member.

OU, Kent To Vie For Championship

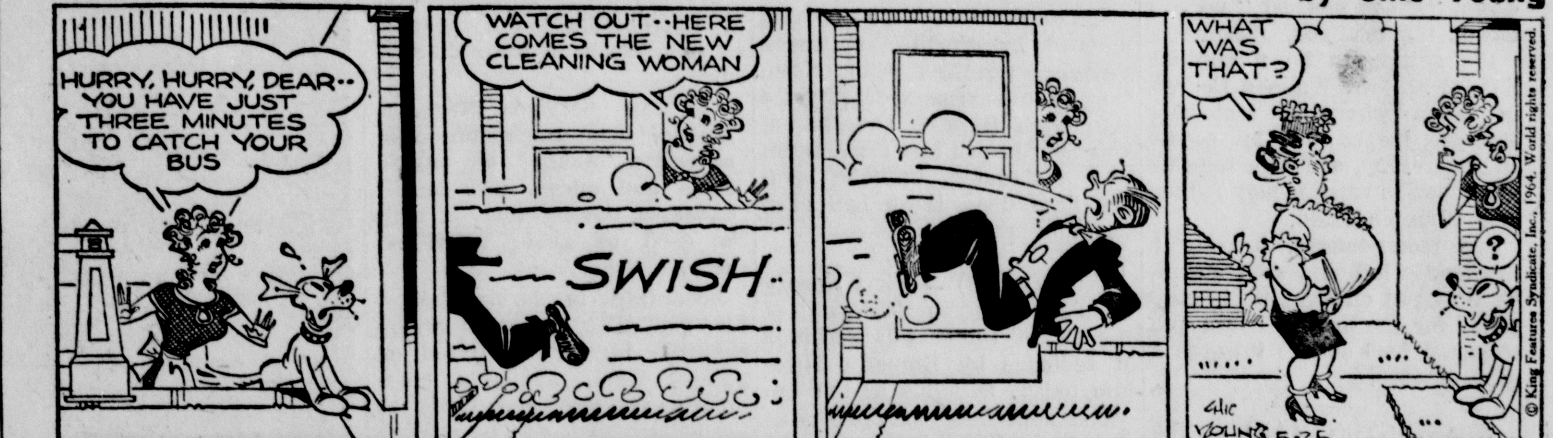

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio University and Kent State were to meet in a playoff game today to determine the Mid-American Conference baseball championship.
 The Bobcats and Golden Flashes, which finished the regular MAC season Saturday with 10-1 records, were to clash on the Ohio State University diamond at 3 p.m.
 Winner of today's playoff will play Big Ten champion Minnesota next weekend in the three game NCAA District 4 tournament.
 The District 4 champion will represent the 16-college district in the NCAA world Series at Omaha, Neb., June 8-12.
 Ohio U. beat Miami, 2-0, and Kent shut out Western Michigan, 4-0, Saturday to tie for the MAC championship.
 Greatest margin scored in the Kentucky Derby in the last 20 years was Assault's eight-length victory over Spy Song in 1946.

Seven of her 17 children survive.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Up . . . down, "Thank you, sir," up . . . down, "Thank you, mam."

It's getting to be a familiar line at Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea where 65 fraternity brothers, helped out by co-eds and passersby, are on a see-saw marathon to raise money for the 1963 Olympic Fund.

The teeter-tottlers, braving a weekend wind and rain storm, have stayed on the job 24 hours a day for the past 46 hours and collected $340 dollars towards a goal of $500.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ordered Prince Edward County, Va., today to reopen its public schools on a desegregated basis by next September.

County education officials closed the schools in 1959 to avoid court-ordered admission of Negroes.

The Prince Edward racial controversy has been fought in state and federal courts since May, 1951. It was one of the original school desegregation cases decided by the Supreme Court on May 17, 1954.

BELGRADE (AP)—President Josip Broz Tito is 72 years old today. Despite his age, the Communist boss of Yugoslavia shows remarkable vigor.

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Plans for a summit conference to discuss the Malaysia crisis appeared to have stalled today over withdrawal of Indonesian guerrilla forces from Malaysian Borneo.

Informed sources said the hitch developed with arrival of a note from President Sukarno's government in Jakarta insisting that withdrawals begin only when the talks start and with no commitment on the number of guerrillas to be pulled out by any specific date.

Malaysian Prime Minister

Tunku Abdul Rahman has demanded genuine and significant withdrawals before he sits down with Sukarno and President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam—Roman Catholic leaders are taking steps to discourage parishioners from demonstrating Tuesday when thousands of Buddhists fill the streets to celebrate Buddha's birthday.

Demonstrations were reported planned by North Vietnamese Catholic refugees who claim they have been persecuted since Ngo Dinh Diem's government was overthrown last year. Diem was a Catholic. Catholic leaders here deny there has been any mistreatment.

TOKYO (AP)—First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan of the Soviet Union was received in audience by Emperor Hirohito today. Officials of the imperial household said he was the first Russian of Cabinet rank to be received by the emperor since World War II.

CANBERRA (AP)—Sir John Eccles, a Nobel Prize winner, says the race for the moon is "futile, fantastic and crazy."

"I don't know the point of going to the moon," Sir John said in a speech to the Australian National Science Association conference in Canberra. "It's an awfully dull place with just dust, mountains and no climate."

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco showed marked favor for Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon Sunday, apparently rebuffing the aspiration of Prince Carlos Hugo of Bourbon-Parma to occupy the Spanish throne.

Franco gave the grandson of Spain's last king second place on the reviewing stand, beside the army minister, during an annual military parade. The prince's wife, Princess Sophie of Greece, sat at Mrs. Franco's right in her box.

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—Two battalions of British troops are en route to this strife-torn colony, requested by Gov. Sir Richard Luyt to end force peace between warring

Cancer Unit Here Lists Revisions

Revisions in the American Cancer Society's program to patients and the community are to go into effect here soon, it was announced today by Mrs. Georgia Walker, executive secretary of the Pickaway County unit.

Mrs. Walker has just returned from a two-day statewide meeting of some 80 leaders in Cleveland where effective ways of implementing the updated service program were discussed.

A new Service Program Manual that represents the collective thinking of physicians and nurses was introduced at the meeting. It will be used to guide activities here.

According to Mrs. Walker, there will be no sweeping changes. Limitations based on patient need, available community services and funds in the local budget will be guiding factors in determining the extent of service provided to cancer patients in Pickaway County.

She urges persons who have not been contacted by a volunteer solicitor to mail contribution to the local Society.

License Plate Lost

Don Frazier, Stella Ave., today told city police he lost a license plate in this area. He said the registration is 717-KL.

Negro and East Indian factions.

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—Heavy clouds forced cancellation today of the first rocket launching by the six-nation European Launcher Development Organization at the Woomera rocket range.

CAIRO (AP)—West German student Franz Huettenmeister, 26, went on trial today on charges of spying for Israel. Conviction could mean the death penalty.

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—Sheikh Abdullah, the nationalist Kashmir leader, and President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan began discussions of the thorny Kashmir dispute today.

AT SEMINAR—Attending a seminar for advanced study of new development in contact lenses yesterday in Columbus was Dr. William Speakman of Circleville (upper left). Mrs. Charlotte Merrin, successfully fitted with new bi-focal contact lens by Dr. Speakman, is checked here by Dr. Russell Pittman, optometrist and consultant with the Wesley-Jessen Contact Lens Co. of Chicago. Warren Herbert of the Wesley-Jessen firm looks on. Attending the seminar were 44 optometrists from Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia. Eleven students from the School of Optometry at Ohio State University were guests.
